

Session

Type of Session: (Supported Symposia or Presentation Theater)	Symposium
Day and Date of Session: (as confirmed by ISTH)	Tuesday 20th July
Start and End Time of Session: (Please use Military Time)	12:30 – 13:30 EST
Title of Session:	Long-term Monitoring of Clinical Efficacy and Safety Parameters for Hemophilia Gene Therapy

Chair Person(s)

Chair Person(s) Details
Steven Pipe, MD          Professor of Pediatrics and Pathology,          Coagulation Director, Special Coagulation Laboratory          Laurence A. Boxer, MD Research Professor of Pediatrics and Communicable Diseases          Department of Pathology          Michigan Medicine          University of Michigan
Lisa Young (Pfizer)

Program and Speakers

Start Time	Finish Time	Duration (mins)	Presentation Title	Presenter Details
12:30	12:40	10 mins	Welcome and Introduction Hemophilia Gene Therapy: Why Monitoring Matters	Steven Pipe Professor of Pediatrics and Pathology, Coagulation Director, Special Coagulation Laboratory Laurence A. Boxer, MD Research Professor of Pediatrics and Communicable Diseases Department of Pathology Michigan Medicine University of Michigan

12:40	12:55	15 mins	Monitoring the Parameters of Clinical Efficacy: Why, What and How	Annette Bowyer Department of Coagulation, H Floor, Royal Hallamshire Hospital, Sheffield, South Yorkshire S10 2JF
12:55	13:10	15 mins	Monitoring Liver Health Before and After Hemophilia Gene Therapy: Approaches and Challenges	Rajender Reddy University of Pennsylvania, USA
13:10	13:25	15 mins	Q&A	All- led by Co-Chairs
13:25	13:30	5 mins	Meeting Summary and Close	Lisa Young (Pfizer)

Supporter/Sponsor/Organizer of the Session:	Pfizer
---	--------